

Denis BILODEAU, BSc, DIA, MBA

Denis brings diversified experience in patient care, clinical research on medical devices, pharmaceutical drugs development, central laboratories, genomics, medical imaging, cell therapy, in organizations such as Sandoz, Aventis, Génome Québec, the Montreal Heart Institute, both nationally and internationally.

He has directed one of Canada's largest population genomics registries, and has led successful clinical research programs leading to U.S., Canadian and European approvals.

He is a member of the Ordre des administrateurs agréés du Québec.

As a Director of Clinical Research, Denis will work closely with academic research teams to implement Atonco's clinical trials, including those in bladder cancer.

Denis holds an MBA from Concordia University, Montreal and a BSc from Université Laval, Québec.